

Conclusion: Mild gluteal tendinopathy. Trochanteric bursitis.

ULTRASOUND GUIDED LEFT TROCHANTERIC BURSAL INJECTION

Clinical History: The indications, risks and benefits of the procedure were discussed with the patient and the patient's consent was obtained.

Technique: Using sonographic guidance and a sterile technique, a 25 gauge needle was advanced into the left trochanteric bursa and a mixture of 5ml of Marcaine and 1ml of Celestone was injected. No intra-procedural complications occurred.
