Dear Reiley,

A report was made to the WA Vaccine Safety Surveillance (WAVSS) system after your recent vaccination. Thank you for the report - these enable us to monitor for common, unusual, severe and serious adverse events following vaccination, and greatly assists us to ensure vaccine safety.

Based on the information contained in the report, no further follow up is required by the WAVSS Team, and further vaccination can be continued as per the recommended schedule.

If there any on-going symptoms, we would recommend GP follow up for further medical assessment.

Information on vaccines, including possible common side effects of vaccination, will continue to be updated regularly on the following Government websites:

WA health: https://healthywa.wa.gov.au/Articles/N_R/Possible-side-effects-of-vaccination

Health Direct: <https://www.healthdirect.gov.au/symptom-checker>

Therapeutic Goods Administration: <https://www.tga.gov.au/covid-19-vaccines>

If you have any further concerns, or if there is additional information you have in relation to your report, please feel free to contact our service and quote the WAVSS event ID W2205-016581.

Kind regards,

Western Australian Vaccine Safety Surveillance
