Patient name: Tracey Kirke

Practitioner: Amy Phillips

Date: 09/09/23

OBJECTIVES

- Support post-partum healing & recovery – c-section birth – 21/07
- Maintain nutrient-dense food consumption to support breastfeeding long-term
- Improve & maintain energy levels throughout the day
- Improve sleep onset through sleep hygiene practices & supplement support
- Manage stress levels on the body & mind
- Increase thyroid hormone production & conversion Sep '23 bloods - T4 -11.8 & T3 3.8
- Investigate thyroid antibodies to rule out Hashimotos
- Prevent reoccurrence of mastitis through immune & lymphatic support

DIETARY INTERVENTIONS

- High protein (grass-fed) & healthy fats in every meal & snack
- Gluten-free (especially if there is autoimmunity present) complex carbs such as sweet potato, quinoa, buckwheat, lentils, beans are also important especially at dinner
- Breakfast: Add 1-2 x egg yolks into your smoothie & alternate with a 3-egg scramble or omelette with lots of veggies
- Snack ideas: Veggie sticks with Pate (from grass fed animals only), almond butter, peanut butter or home-made Hummus (Pippel brand is ok from Woolworths), Date & nut bliss balls (energy dense & quick)
- Bone broths (grass-fed) – 2 x cups a day with a meal – high in collagen, gelatin for repair & recovery

LIFESTYLE INTERVENTIONS

- Sleep hygiene (handout attached)

- Continue to drink 3L plus of water each day – add a small pinch of unrefined salt (Himalayan or celtic) to mineralise your water & hydrate your cells more efficiently
